Oral presentation Guidelines for Food Science and Nutrition Degree Programme

Using three minutes (03 min), you give the audience an understanding of why you did your research, what you did in your research, and what you found.

Number of slides: 03

> Slide 1: Title of your research, your name, affiliation
>
> In the same slide include why you did your research (Background & Objectives)
>
> Include the UReS logo at the top right-hand corner of the first slide.
>
> (Higher resolution UReS 2022 logo can be downloaded from LMS)
>
> Slide 2: What you did (Methods)
>
> Slide 3: What you found (Results)

Time   :3 minutes and 2 minutes discussion (Questioning & Answering)

Designing the 3-minute presentation slides

- You can present as a story with a beginning, middle, and end.
- Write a script. Practice it.
- Then prepare the slides to support your story.
- Use clear font size (minimum should be 20-24 depending on the font) and type (e.g. Calibri)
- Do not use animations.
- Avoid complex terminology in the slides.
- Avoid too many words, try to use simple figures, flow charts, and/ or photos to tell your story.
- Do not include references.

Delivering your presentation

- Do not introduce yourself (The chairperson will introduce you and your presentation title to the audience). Directly start your talk.
- Do not depend on the slides
- Do not read the slides/ script
- Speak clearly and use annotations.
- Finish your talk by summing up how your research will contribute to the relevant research field/ betterment of the community/ country etc.
- Do not acknowledge at the end

- Please rename your presentations by your student number and department (18xxxx_DFST, 18xxxx_DAN). You need to upload your presentations to the LMS on or before 9.00 am on 04th March 2024.

- Guide to submit your presentation:
  Log in the LMS >Home > All courses > FLFN-New2023 > ShortCourses2023 > UReS-2023 Presentation submission > Enrol to the course (Enrolment key is 2023) >
  Submit your presentation under the tab allocated for your department.

- UReS 2023 is scheduled to be held in-person and you are requested to be present at your presentation venue at least 15 minutes before your presentation.

- Please send any queries via LMS chat option.

UReS